The Pool Library

This library has been established by the Manitoba Wheat Pool as part of the educational work authorized by special resolution of the members of the Pool, at the annual meeting in July, 1925.

Because this library is entirely educational and contains many expensive books, it was decided to lend directly to the member instead of sending a number of books to some person who would lend them out in a district. The experience of those in charge of rural libraries is that, with the exception of fiction, books sent out in bulk are not circulated satisfactorily and promptly, and, consequently, those who use the library do not get as good service as when the books are loaned directly from the library to the individual borrower.

No specific time is imposed on a book. The educational value of a book might be lost to a reader if he were compelled to go through it in a given time. Members are asked, however, to remember that others may be waiting for books that are out, and that consideration for others will promote the efficiency of the library as an educational institution. This is a good place to apply the principles of co-operation.

Members are requested not to hand books to neighbors; it slows up circulation. Besides, it is useful to us to know how many people use the library and what books are in demand. We, therefore, prefer that books should be sent out direct to each borrower from the library.

The Pool pays the postage both ways. Enclosed with each book sent out is a stamped addressed label to use for its return. When returning a book wrap it carefully and have it weighed at the post office to make sure it is not overweight.

The Pool department of education and publicity will be glad to advise any member on a course of reading. It is difficult for the ordinary reader to make a judicious selection from a mere collection of titles, and we have endeavored to meet this difficulty to some extent in this catalogue, by giving a slight idea of the character of a book where it is not obvious in the title. The difficulty cannot, however, be entirely overcome in a catalogue, and we would like members to feel that the department is always at their service in helping them to make the best use of the stores of knowledge available in the Pool library.

J. T. HULL,

Director of Education and Publicity
Manitoba Wheat Pool.

Notes on Special Series of Books

The little book is a great boon to the man or woman whose time is limited for the satisfying of a thirst for knowledge. The Pool library is admirably adapted for this class of reader. Of small books the library contains the following series, all of which can be highly recommended:

The Home University Library of Modern Knowledge.—Pages 5 by 3 inches. Each book contains about 250 pages. Covers the whole field of human knowledge. Each volume contains suggestions for additional reading on the subject it covers. 150 titles issued.

The People's Books.—Pages $5\frac{1}{2}$ by $3\frac{1}{4}$ inches. Average about 95 pages. Each volume contains suggestions for further reading. About 140 titles, covering a wide range.

Vanguard Books.—New works and reprints. Pages $5\frac{1}{4}$ by $3\frac{1}{2}$.

History of Science Series.—Pages $5\frac{1}{2}$ by $3\frac{1}{4}$. Each book devoted to a branch of science. Each about 150 pages. An excellent popular series.

Life Stories of Famous Men.—Pages $5\frac{1}{2}$ by $3\frac{1}{4}$. About 125 pages each.

English Statesmen Series.—Pages $5\frac{1}{4}$ by 3. About 250 pages.

The Everyman's Edition of Standard Works, of which the library contains a large number, has pages $5\frac{3}{4}$ by $3\frac{1}{2}$. The number of pages per volume varies considerably.

The Beginning of Things.—Pages 5 by 3. About 90 pages each. Each volume tells of the beginning of some feature of our daily life, e.g., the calendar, the cultivation of wheat, dancing, tools, etc.

Humanizing of Knowledge Series.—Pages $5\frac{1}{4}$ by $3\frac{1}{4}$. About 140 pages each. Aims to present the fruit of scholarly research for the average man.

Benn's Sixpenny Library.—Pages $5\frac{1}{4}$ by $3\frac{1}{4}$. About 80 pages each. A new series on the same plan as the Home University Library and The People's Books.

The Forum Series.—Pages $5\frac{1}{2}$ by $3\frac{1}{4}$. About 55 pages each. Modern science and modern thought.

Temple Primers.—Pages 5 by 3. 130-200 pages each. Covers a wide range of subjects.
